OUR STORY

SURF OUR SEAS™

Classic British surf wear for the seasoned adventurer

We are a small independent company whose younger years were spent surfing the glorious north shores of Cornwall and spending every spare weekend travelling down the A303 with friends. We loved everything about the life we led the moment we hit the Atlantic Road.

In late 2011 we headed down once more to take on the north coast. Having broken the ice and braved the biting off shore winds, we decided to go on the hunt for some new hoodies, maybe a good jacket, knowing that kind of stuff was hard to find back at home....

Walking into familiar shops we soon realised that we had suddenly grown old. We were met by a shop full of clothes for teenagers, cut to fit figures we now only dream about, garish and totally over the top. We left empty handed and spent our money in the pub instead....

On the long drive back to our little corner of England the concept of 'Surf our Seas' was born.

A classic, simple, British, high quality surf brand for the more seasoned adventurer.... not teenage fashion from the brands we used to love.

That was then... fast forward 18 months and we have been selling our range online with success.

Now we want take our designs to a wider audience and we are looking for small independent retailers to stock our signature hoodie range, help us spread the word and get behind what we think is a brand that can have it's own little corner in the UK surf wear market.

With this letter we have included a bunch of small flyer cards, we would love it if you could put them near your till for your customers. We have also included a bunch of stickers, these are a little something to say thanks for your time and are for you to either sell on the counter or give away to your customers.

If you think a selection of SOS hoodies would compliment your stock please find enclosed an order form.

You can also email us at studio@surfourseas.com to simply find out more or register your interest for future designs.

Thanks for your time and thanks for helping us spread the word about 'Surf our Seas'

Cheers

Emily and Mark Foster
